

Ainsley House Christmas Tea

Thursday, December 12, 2024

Celebrate Christmas with a British flair, enjoying a docent-led tour of Campbell's Ainsley House and tea in the carriage house. The thatched roof, English-country style house was modeled after Anne Hathaway's home in England.

Begin with light refreshments at the beautifully decorated Alden Lane Nursery, which carries a wide selection of holiday wreaths, bouquets, and ornaments.

Charming Campbell retains its small-town feeling, despite its location in the Santa Clara Valley. Established by grain pioneers, the city's prosperity began when the railroad came to town. Apricots, plums and peaches from the valley were shipped to the eastern United States. Campbell became a center of fruit canning and drying, earning it the title of "Orchard City."

The Ainsley House was the home of canning pioneer John Colpitts and his wife Alcinda .
